Delivered December 19, 2002

CONTEMPT — SHOW-CAUSE ORDER ISSUED. — Where, according to the petition of the Supreme Court Committee on Professional Conduct, an attorney had failed to pay the required restitution and had failed to communicate with the Committee regarding why he could not pay the sanctions, the supreme court ordered the attorney to appear before it for consideration of the relief requested in the petition, including why he should not be held in contempt.

Petition of the Supreme Court Committee on Professional Conduct for Contempt; Order of Show Cause.

PER CURIAM. On November 15, 2002, the Supreme Court Committee on Professional Conduct filed a petition in this court seeking an order requiring Kenneth George Fuchs to show cause why he should not be held in contempt by this court for willfully disobeying orders issued by the Committee directing Mr. Fuchs to pay restitution to three individuals. Mr. Fuchs has not responded to the petition.

The petition reflects three separate instances involving bank trust account overdrafts where the Committee either cautioned or reprimanded Mr. Fuchs and required him to make restitution in the total amount of $2,000. The orders were issued on September 3, 2002. According to the petition, Mr. Fuchs has failed to pay
